DETAILED ACTION

Examiner acknowledges a submission of the amendment and arguments filed on March 7, 2006. Claims 1, 2 and 4 are amended. Amendment and arguments have overcome rejections under 103(a).

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Please amend Claim 1, last line as follows: "when said fault condition occurs[:]" (replace semicolon by colon).

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

An amended independent Claim 1 discloses a video display apparatus having a main and auxiliary deflection circuits, an amplifier stage for generating an auxiliary deflection current to correct a raster distortion and a power supply developing a positive and negative supply voltages for the amplifier stage, the positive voltage is applied to the amplifier stage before the negative voltage and a power switch, which in a fault condition disconnect the supply voltages of the amplifier stage without interrupting a supply current of a main deflection circuit. The closest reference to the claim is Chambers et al., which discloses selectively disconnecting in fault condition the supply voltages of the amplifier stage without interrupting a supply current of a main deflection circuit. However, it does not disclose developing positive and negative supply voltages for the amplifier stage, while the positive voltage being applied to the amplifier stage before the negative voltage. Such sequence helps to avoid an excessive current in a convergence yoke. This limitation in combination with other limitations of the claim makes the claim allowable.

Allowability resides, at least in part, in the above-described limitations, which has not been disclosed in the Prior Art in a search.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
